

EMERGING ISSUE ON MINING

- ❖ Protests by tribal communities over calcite mining in Nimmalapadu village - A 10 year struggle led to a historical judgment in 1997, widely known as the Samata judgment, in which the Court ruled that the state had no right to grant leases in areas governed by the Fifth Schedule of the Constitution. Only cooperative societies jointly run by tribal community could mine in such areas.